

Business Anywhere

What does Business Anywhere mean?

Technology is changing the shape of business. Your business is where you are—wherever you may be. You can access your information, get work done, and collaborate with your team from virtually anywhere, on your favorite device.

What can you imagine for your business?

Our employees can work together wherever they are

We can meet anytime from anywhere

Everyone can use their favorite device to get work done

I can get to sensitive information while I'm on the go

Powering Business Anywhere

Today, more people than ever are working outside the office, on a range of mobile devices. To keep up with the speed of business, employees need to access their work and connect with their teams wherever they go. People today expect to have flexibility in where and when they work—so much so that this can even be a differentiator in attracting and retaining the best employees.

“We have a lot of passionate experts in different locations who want to connect with each other. We need our people to feel like they’re part of the larger team even if they’re an office of one. That’s what Microsoft technology delivers.”
